SERBS DRIVE BULGARS BACK ON MONASTIR

Seize Three Towns and Heights Along Border.

VON MACKENSEN DRIVES FORWARD

Russians Prepare for Stand Before Con- stanta Road.

London, Sept. 19.—The Serbians are still sweeping forward in West Macedonia. Following the seizure yesterday of the Bulgarian first line on the Nidje Ridge, along the Serbian frontier east of Monastir, King Peter's troops swung forward to-day and captured the summit of the height after a desperate hand-to-hand combat with the enemy. From here their guns dominate the Monastir road.

Counter attacks of great violence against the French, Russian and Serbian forces who captured Florina were repulsed and the Serbian troops extended their lines further to the north, seizing three more towns Krushegrad, Neokazi and Rosna.

Meanwhile a battle of great intensity is being staged in the Dobruja, where Mackensen is slowly pushing the Russo-Rumanian army back to the line in front of the Constanta-Cernavoda-Bucharest railroad which the Allied troops are determined to hold at any cost. Four more villages, including the Black Sea port of Mangalia, have been occupied by the Bulgars.

Mackensen's Advance Delayed.

General Zaitchikowsky is delaying the advance of Mackensen's forces sufficiently, however, to permit of the strengthening of the defenses behind which the reinforced Russian army must take its stand to guard the only approach into Rumania on the whole lower Danube line in the Dobruja.

So long as the Cernavoda bridge remains in the hands of the Rumanians, Mackensen's prime object in invading the province will fail of achievement. If the stand of the Czar's troops along the Razeva-Tuzla line is successful the Bulgars will have had not the slightest effect on the Allied campaign in the Balkans beyond that of diverting minor forces from other fronts.

Russians Win in Carpathians.

In the Carpathian region the Russians are cooperating with the Rumanians in successful actions, but in southwestern Transylvania Vienna reports the defeat of King Ferdinand's forces.

For the last three days the operations of the British and French troops along the Struma and Vardar have been confined to artillery activity and raids. Military observers are beginning to believe that the plans of the Allied staff do not contemplate any movement of importance in either of these sectors. It is pointed out that the possibilities of success in any operation along the Struma are negligible, because the means of transportation are limited to a dirt road running through an extremely mountainous district.

While the Vardar region offers advantages not found on the Struma front—notably a gently sloping plain pierced by the railway to Uskub—it is thought that the sole purpose of an Allied push here is to protect the flank of the forces operating to the westward.

Serbs in Good Position.

It is on the front where the Serbians are at present operating so successfully that conditions are most favorable for a powerful attack. The Valley of the Corna River, which embraces both Florina and Monastir, offers a broad, level stretch of territory over which an army could move practically unhindered. Here the Bulgars have lost their only effective line of defense, and have no alternative but to retreat in haste toward Monastir.

The Serbian cavalry, sweeping far ahead of the main body, has almost reached the outskirts of this town, and the Bulgars have already transported their archives to Uskub, according to reports received here to-day. With Monastir in their possession, and a railway at their rear to serve them, the Allied troops would be in excellent position to carry out flank attacks against the enemy. The Bulgars in this section are weak in numbers and half-hearted in spirit, and it is felt here that little stands in the way of their capture.

Kaiser and Hindenburg Shift Headquarters East

Germans to Concentrate Power on Russia and Rumania. Reducing West Operations to Defensive Only— Great Offensive Expected.

(By Cable to The Tribune.)
London, Sept. 19.—Great German Headquarters have been shifted from the Western to the Eastern front, according to information that reached London to-day. The "Süddeutsche Zeitung" also is credited with this statement.

If the report is true and there seems no reason why it should be doubted—von Hindenburg has set into motion his new plan. Hereafter less attention will be given to the West front, where purely defensive operations will be continued, and the German power concentrated in the east.

The dispute between von Falkenhayn and Hindenburg arose over the question as to where the supreme German effort should be made. Falkenhayn contended that the West front should be chosen, Hindenburg that the East. Falkenhayn convinced the Kaiser, and the assault on Verdun followed. When this failed, and the Russian successes hastened Rumanian entry into the war, Falkenhayn was deposed as Chief of Staff and Hindenburg elevated to his place.

What may be expected then is a great German effort in the east. Recent dispatches have indicated that this would take the form of a blow at Rumania, an effort to duplicate the complete victory in Serbia. The advance into the Dobruja and the assault on the Danube line was preparatory to this plan.

Another phase of the new plan doubtless will be an attempt to stem the Russian offensive and to save Lemberg and Galicia. All Hindenburg would strive for here would be to bulwark the Austrian line so that it could hold the Russians until winter came to his aid. With the coming of spring he will have at his command new contingents. For, although he is outnumbered in men, he has big advantages in railway communication.

The effect of such strategy on the German campaign in the West cannot be predicted with certainty. It may mean the withdrawal of the Germans from a large part of France—the long-talked-of shortening of their line. Or it may merely mean the abandonment of any offensive action outside of counter attacks and slow retirement, while

MEN UP TO 45 FACE CALL TO BRITISH ARMY

Inclusion of Ireland in Conscript- ion Area Urged.

(By Cable to The Tribune.)
London, Sept. 19.—The British military authorities do not intend to allow any diminution in the number of reserves.

This is proved not only by the recent coming of the country for eligible recruits, but also by the frequent editorial references in the press to the possible necessity of calling to the colors men up to the age of forty-five. This step had never been seriously considered before.

The application of conscription to Ireland is suggested by "The Daily Mail" to-day in an article calling attention to the urgent necessity for obtaining more men for the army. The newspaper also suggests one to forty-five years, and the coming out of the young men from exempted occupations, of whom it estimates there are 1,250,000 physically fit, who have not yet been drafted into the army.

"The Times" military correspondent, discussing the same problem, says: "There can be only one rule for the Allies, namely, to place in the line every able-bodied man that we can get. If this action is not taken quickly and thoroughly Germany will beat us in organizing her man power. Compulsion for Ireland is necessary."

The "Daily Telegraph" says the government is about to appoint a committee for this purpose, of which Austen Chamberlain will be the chairman.

QUEEN WILL DEFEND RIGHTS OF HOLLAND

Tells Parliament She Is Thankful for Peace.

London, Sept. 19.—Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, on opening the Dutch Parliament to-day, says a dispatch from The Hague, expressed thankfulness that the country had not been involved in the war. She said:

"We continue to follow the line of duty dictated by the law of nations for neutral states, and firmly resolve to defend our independence and maintain our rights against whoever may seek to attack them. Our military forces are being augmented, as also are our stores of arms and ammunition."

Referring to the economic life of the country, which every day is being more affected by the war, the Queen said: "The government is taking steps to supply the people with food. Efforts also are being made to ameliorate conditions in the Dutch East Indies."

In addition to the augmentation of the fleet was being strengthened.

NAMUR MAYOR SHOT AS SPY, DUTCH HEAR

Sixty-two Tried, 22 Sentenced to Death by Germans.

Amsterdam, Sept. 19.—According to a press dispatch from Maastricht to-day, sixty-two persons have been on trial at Hasselt, Belgium, on charges of espionage, of whom twenty-two were condemned to death on Friday last.

It is rumored, the same source states, that the persons, including M. Golenvaux, Burgomaster of Namur, have been executed.

RIOTING MOB FIGHT POLICE; STONE CARS OF BLACKMAIL

Women Hurt in Battle of Strikers in Broadway.

SUBWAY TRAINS ARE BOMBARDED

Theatre Crowds Take Part in Fight—Service Halted.

Rioting by strikers and their sympathizers became so serious last night that at 10 o'clock the Third Avenue Railway system stopped service on its cross-town lines and ran all cars into the barns, where they were placed under heavy guard. Before this was done the rioters had obtained such command of the situation that Captain Underhill, of the West Forty-seventh Street station, asked for additional reserves to handle the mobs.

Seventy-five patrolmen were rushed by automobiles from districts in the neighborhood of Police Headquarters, making a total of 500 men on riot duty in the district bounded by Sixth Avenue and the North River and Forty-second and Fifty-ninth Streets.

Strikers Stone Passengers.

Five hundred strikers and sympathizers, armed with bricks and clubs, attacked a Fifty-ninth Street cross-town car at Fifth Avenue, and broke every window. The car was crowded with passengers, who fought to get to the street. Many were struck and slightly injured by bricks and stones, and crowds of strikers boarded the car and tried to drag the conductor and motorman from the platforms. Patrolman Keepler battled with the mob until reserves came to his assistance, and arrested George McCarthy, of 105 Madison Street, a striking motorman.

Earlier in the evening a crowd boarded a north-bound Lexington Avenue car at Eighty-first Street. During the excitement Miss Elsie Brain, of 387 Hiram Street, Brooklyn, fainted. Police fought the strikers off, but another crowd attacked the same car two blocks further north, this time Mary Lyons, of 117 East Eighty-fourth Street, was hurled to the pavement and cut her face.

The crews and patrolmen on the last cars operating on the Forty-second and Fifty-ninth Street cross-town lines had to fight their way through crowds of strikers who hurled bricks, iron bolts and stones. Miss Anna Pollock, of 722 Park Avenue, Weehawken, N. J., was struck by an iron bolt hurled by one of the rioters. Patrolman Murphy ordered the car run at full speed to the Tenth Avenue barns, where the girl was removed to the Policlinic Hospital. Her breast was lacerated.

Paving Stones Hurl.

Stones from the subway excavation were hurled through the windows of a car which was surrounded by strikers at Broadway and Forty-second Street. Paving blocks wrapped in half an hour the battle raged for a block on either side of Forty-second Street. Reserves from the West Forty-seventh Street station found Patrolman Johnson fighting a crowd that surged back and forth and swept him with a hail of bricks and stones, backed up against a subway kiosk and holding to his prisoner with one hand while with the other he cracked heads and shoulders with his nightstick.

Police Club Rioters.

The rioters roamed throughout the district between Third Avenue and Eleventh Avenue and from Forty-second Street to Fifty-ninth Street. Reserves from the West Forty-seventh Street station were sent in quick succession to Ninth Avenue and Fifty-sixth Street, Ninth Avenue and Fifty-third Street, Eighth Avenue and Third Street, Eleventh Avenue and Third Street.

URGES COALITION RULE IN GERMANY

Reichstag Member Calls for Union of Parties in New Ministry.

Amsterdam, Sept. 20.—A coalition government for Germany is urged by the Berlin "Tageblatt" in a long leader by Hans Sikkovitch, a member of the Reichstag.

"Never since the beginning of the war," Herr Sikkovitch writes, "has the German people awaited with such tension and apprehension the forthcoming meeting of the Reichstag. The period since the last meeting has brought us successes, but also many difficulties, military setbacks and new enemies."

"After two years of fighting, bloodshed and self-denial, the peace for which every heart longs is still at an immeasurable distance. The fighting lust of the enemy has been revived by Russian successes and the entry of Rumania. The whole people stand at the gate waiting and asking:

"The Reichstag leaders will have to listen to speeches stronger than ever on the events of the last few weeks. Therefore it were wise to consider carefully whether the leaders of all our great parties should not be called together to form a coalition ministry."

GIRL PLAYING TAG HURT BY BILLIE BURKE'S CAR

Actress's Chauffeur Says She Dodged Into Auto's Path.

Billie Burke's automobile was driven through a group of children playing tag at St. Nicholas Avenue and 139th Street last night. Helen Neville, seven years old, did not see the car until too late to save herself. She was taken to Harlem Hospital with a broken leg and a possible fracture of the skull. Her home is at 2551 Eighth Avenue.

Carl Gustavson, the chauffeur, said the girl had dodged right into his path. The actress was not in the car.

EVACUATION OF TRIESTE NEAR, ATHENS HEARS

Austrians Reported Preparing for Move.

Athens, Sept. 19.—It is stated in most reliable diplomatic sources here that the Austrians are preparing for the evacuation of Trieste.

Vienna, Sept. 19.—The War Office issued the following statement to-day: "Italian theatre—Yesterday passed more quietly on the Carso highlands, as the attacking force of the Italian army corps which has been in the recent fighting has noticeably decreased. Isolated enemy attacks were repulsed. During the afternoon the artillery duels were very stubborn for many hours, especially in the southern sectors of the highlands."

"Our troops repulsed several attacks made by weak detachments near Flitsch and on the Fannan ridge."

SEABURY RUNS BEHIND IN CITY; FIRST UPSTATE

Bacon Is Beaten by 1,200 In Senator- rial Race.

BENNETT BURIED BY LANDSLIDE

McCombs Has Easy Time Defeating His Demo- cratic Rival.

The victor in the contest for the Republican nomination for United States Senator in the state-wide primary remained in doubt at 2:30 o'clock this morning. At that hour with 4,124 districts heard from out of a total of 5,719 in the state, William M. Calder was leading Robert Bacon by about 1,200. The figures were: Calder, 109,551; Bacon, 108,364.

Early this morning incomplete returns indicated that Governor Whitman would capture the Progressive nomination, but with a close margin. He was running about 3,100 ahead of ex-Judge Seabury in New York City, and a very close second in the upstate count. It looked as if his city majority might pull him through.

Outside of the city, 761 election districts out of 3,540 gave Seabury 1,545 and Whitman 1,433. With returns from 1,610 election districts out of 2,679 in the city the Governor had 5,031 and his opponent 2,540.

McCombs Gains Big Lead.

William F. McCombs, the Democratic candidate for United States Senator, maintained an extravagant lead over his opponent, Thomas F. Conway, in the city. In 1,500 of the 2,079 election districts in this city he had 46,511 and Conway 18,890. This would indicate a majority in greater New York of about 36,200.

Governor Whitman had a majority of 2,700 in 3,192 election districts out of the total of 5,719. The vote at that time stood: Whitman, 8,358; Seabury, 5,648.

The Whitman vote against Senator William M. Bennett buried the aspiring legislator to a suffocating depth. Up-state, where the Bennett strength was considered strongest, the vote against the Senator stood about six to one.

French Academy of Medicine Hears Reports on Disease.

Paris, Sept. 19.—The disease of infantile paralysis, according to a statement made by M. Briac, Director of Public Health, at the Academy of Medicine, is subsiding in France.

A report on the subject by Dr. Arnold Netter, a member of the academy, said the disease always attained its maximum in August and September, and adds that infantile paralysis is not epidemic and occurs only in isolated cases. The report declared there was no reason to fear the disease will take on a contagious character.

After discussing the report the academy decided it was not necessary to recommend special measures of precaution. But it was, however, in favor of making a report of each case of the disease obligatory.

ARRESTED 31 YEARS AGO, PUMMELS CAPTOR NOW

Meegan, Imprisoned and Freed, Pays Fine of $100.

James Meegan, a Brooklyn laundryman, paid a fine of $100 in Special Sessions, Jamaica, yesterday for a beating he administered on July 3 to Frank Sprague, who arrested him for burglary in 1885. At that time Meegan was sent to Sing Sing for ten years. He was pardoned and restored to citizenship, but kept away from Jamaica until July 5.

After he had renewed acquaintances in several barrooms he ran across Sprague on the street. Unmindful of the fact that the man who had arrested him thirty-one years before was now an old man, Meegan started in to even up the score. He apologized in court yesterday.

WHO GOT HILLS'S GEMS? HIS WIDOW DEMANDS

Late Husband Spent $4,950, but She Doesn't Know Why.

Unless Victor Dautlemon, manager of Cartier, a jewelry firm of 712 Fifth Avenue, tells for whom the late Charles I. Hills, of Elizabeth, spent $4,950 with that company, without the knowledge of his wife, goodness only knows what may happen. For Mr. Hills's widow has found cancelled checks and she is determined to find out. Surrogate Calahan yesterday refused to force Mr. Dautlemon to divulge the name of the recipient of the jewels. But Mrs. Hills's attorney said he would appeal and appeal till there were no courts left to appeal to.

Here is how it happened. With tear-filled eyes Mrs. Hills was looking over a pile of her late husband's cancelled checks the other day. When she came across one made out to Cartier for $2,475 the tears dried away. When she found a similar one, save for its date, she waxed wrathful. Then she wrote to Edward Maxon, of 120 Broadway, and asked him to find out for her. Mr. Maxon is still trying.
